Live Your Love got some press this week!

Darren and Lindsey Smitherman are driving the country to find non-profits, for-profits and individuals doing good things to help others in their communities and around the world. Darren and Lindsey interviewed us a few weeks ago when they were passing through Seattle and decided to blog about Live Your Love!

We were honored, not only to be a part of their amazing journey but to get to meet people with such big hearts! Read up about Live Your Love and check out more of their stories throughout the website!

Live Your Love has gotten the go ahead from Fair Trade USA to purchase, import and sell Fair Trade tea with the unlimited use of the official logo.

We are extremely excited to send the tea company in Sri Lanka our final design, logo and all, and begin the final stage of purchase!!!

3 LIVE YOUR LOVE's first official office

Live Your Love has its first official office space in our new home and we're ready to make October the most productive month yet. Although this is a photo we took at IKEA last week, we're hopeful that our office will look this nice in time!
